

Reskill in minutes when operations shift

Help your workforce adapt quickly and easily

THE CHALLENGE

The need for cost-effective reskilling that scales

Retailers must regularly adapt to supply chain demands and changes. But most reskilling methods are outdated or ineffective for modern learners.

What's getting in the way?

No way to swap roles

When a worker calls in sick or takes vacation, their co-workers have no access to new task guidance needed in the moment.

Weeks-long delays

It can take an average of six weeks to create and deploy new training to the floor. An outdated LMS isn't agile enough to accommodate sudden changes and rollouts of new procedures.

Long, overwhelming manuals

Searching through binders of information is time-consuming and takes associates out of the flow of work, discouraging retention.
